

In recent demonstrations, participants have been “kettled” before they could even start their public march. Left only to the discretion of the police, these regulations are weapons against democracy. They allow the economic and political elite to enact austerity reforms uncontested, while shutting down any unwanted popular protest such as the spring 2012 student strike.

P-6, WHAT IS IT EXACTLY?

Anyone caught in a demonstration whose directions have not been revealed to the Police or wearing a mask can receive, after likely spending long hours detained, a fine of $637 or more.

C-309, WHAT IS IT EXACTLY?

This law condemns anyone wearing a mask, in a demonstration that has been declared illegal, to up to five years in prison and 10 years in the case of a riot. The power to decide when an event becomes illegal or when it is a riot lies at the sole discretion of the police.

These measures deny those in the most precarious states, the poor, international students, and those targeted already by the police the ability to participate in public demonstrations where the people, when a policy decision hinders the common good, can make themselves heard. The spontaneity of a demonstration, which helps to build social movements and strengthens solidarity and established democratic spaces, is undermined by the requirement to disclose directions.

To preserve the freedom to express our collective rights of expression and dissent, we must not give into threats from the economic and political elites.

TOGETHER WE MUST DISOBEY THESE REPRESSIVE MEASURES WHILE THERE IS STILL TIME!
